

FREE PERSONAL FINANCE CLASSES HELD AT PRINCE OF PEACE

Are you tired of living paycheck to paycheck? Do you have creditors calling you about your debt? Are you concerned about saving enough for your kids' college or your retirement? Are you feeling overwhelmed about money? Then you need to attend the FREE Personal Finance Classes held at Prince of Peace.

This is not a sales job, and there will be no sales promotion during the classes. Classes are offered to help Prince of Peace parishioners take control of their finances - to get a better understanding of the financial environment. Classes are open to high school students all the way up to Senior Adults who want to educate themselves on how to create a better financial future.

The classes will be broken into four, one-hour classes on topics including You and Your Finances and Budgeting, Saving and Investing for Your Future, Credit and Debt Reduction, and Managing Risk and Insurance.

Classes will be held on Sundays starting at 10:15 in the Parish Office Conference Room and then on Tuesdays at 7pm in Rooms 4/5 with the same class offered each week. Here is the class schedule:

9 and 11 February - You and Your Finances and Budgeting

23 and 25 February - Saving and Investing for Your Future

8 and 10 March - Credit and Debt Reduction

29 and 31 March - Managing Risk and Insurance

If you are interested in attending these classes, please email Rick Martin at martrj7@verizon.net or call 757-305-7069, so we can get an idea of how many are attending.
