On Eagle's Wings

Michael Joncas

You who dwell in the shelter of the Lord, who abide in His shadow for life, say to the Lord:
"My refuge, my Rock in whom I trust!"...

REFRAIN:

And he will raise you up on ea-gle's wings, bear you on the breath of dawn, make you to shine_ like the sun, and hold you in_ the_ palm, of his hand.

The snare of the fowler will never capture you, and famine will bring you no fear: under His wings your refuge, His faithfulness your shield...

You need not fear the terror of the night, nor the arrow that flies by day; though thousands fall about you; near you it shall not come...

For to his angels he's given a command to guard you in all of your ways; upon their hands they will bear you up, lest your dash your foot against a stone...

For Our Visitors – Reception of the Eucharist

All God's people are welcome to this sacred place and Liturgy. The Catholic understanding of Holy Communion as the very Body and Blood of Jesus Christ limits the reception of the Eucharist to those who are in full communion with the Catholic Church. Our brothers and sisters of other faiths, as well as those Catholics who may not be able to receive Communion are invited to receive a blessing by coming forth with your arms crossed over your chest to receive a blessing with the sign of the cross from the priest.

Text: Henry van Dyke Tune: Hymn of Joy Public Domain

Of necessity we must be sorrowful when those whom we love leave us in death. Although we know that they have not left us behind forever but only gone ahead of us, still when death seizes our loved ones, our loving hearts are saddened by death itself. Thus the apostle Paul does not tell us not to grieve but: “Not to grieve like those who are without hope.”

Let us grieve, therefore, over the necessity of losing our loved ones in death but with the hope of being reunited with them. If we are afflicted, we still find consolation. Our weakness weighs us down but faith bears us up. We sorrow over the human condition but find our healing in the divine promise. - Saint Augustine of Hippo
